KEY

1. Wayfinding sign as per 'Heart of Nelson' concept
2. Paving draws the users into the space - pattern to be confirmed with local iwi, consider Niho Taniwha as shown
3. Pakohe kōhatu (touchstone) on plinth (same height as (4)
4. Low walls ground the space and create infomal seating opportunities, consider cladding with stone to match planters across the road
5. Existing Schooner Ronga memorial
6. New double sided information panels - consider audio options
7. Relocate existing shield & crest onto new wall (approx 900mm above FGL)
8. New bench seating with materiality to match concept
9. New wall to match (7)
10. Extend space and widen steps to create a sense of occasion and draw users through the space
11. Lush planting reconnects the space with its local identity, consider Nikau, Ferns, Dianella and Lobelia
12. Existing flagpole
13. Proposed pathway and landing links to the North
14. Proposed pathway links to the war memorial
15. Remove existing pathways to the East and replace with lawn
16. Remove dying Rhododendron and replace with Cercis Forest Pansy or similar where shown
17. New pathway aligns with door into hall
18. Existing Rhododendron
19. Existing Benchseat
20. Existing War Memorial and concrete area
21. Existing Camellia
22. Relocate existing Benchseats
23. Remove existing hedging to expose existing pathways
24. Update underplanting to create cohesion throughout the reserve
25. Plant additional Camellia and replace lawn for low growing garden species
